Mrs. Thompson Brings Charges Against Policeman Creagh.

TELLS A STRANGE STORY

With an Unknown Man, the Officer Is Accused of Entering Her House at 2 o'Clock in the Morning After Whisky-She Alleges Persecution on His Part.

Mrs. Laura Thompson, of No.. 410 New Jersey avenue, was at the District Building to-day to lodge a complaint against Policeman Creagh, of the Sixth precinct, and under instructions will file written charges under oath against the officer and bring him before the trial board.

Mrs. Thompson alleges that about a year ago Creagh rapped at her door at 2 o'clock in the morning and asked for admittance. Under the impression that it was a friend of the family, Mrs. Thompson opened the door, and Creagh and another patrolman, whose name she could not recall, stepped inside, when she defanded their business.

Tengh is alleged to have stated that te came after a drink of whisky, and upon her indigmant protest against their presence in her house at that hour. Creagh remarked that she could let them out the Apack way.

She recused, when one of them promised they would lear—at once if she would first ascertain if the night inspector was in ascertain if the night inspector was in the vicinity. This she consented to do for the sake of Cragh's partner, and after finding the coast clear the men departer.

HAS PERSECUTED HER. Mrs. Thompson further alleges that ever since the occurrence Creagh has subjected her boys to a series of persecutions, and that last night one of them was arrested for a trivial offense, and this release from the station house was effected only through the deposit of a collateral. The complains that before she could ascertain what was necessary as a means of lefense at the police court the boy was fined $5.

The charges will be most

The charges will be made as directed, and Mrs. Thompson proposes to be ready with ample proof to substantiate them.

M. E. Conference Declares It a Worthy Cause for Church Help. Rev. W. H. Brooks presided over the morning session of the Washington dis-trict conference, now being held at As-ury M. E. Church. The forenoon was devoted to the reading of reports from pastors, exhorters and class leaders, showing that the districts are in excellent religious condition, church numbership increasing and schools gaining

The reports of the class leaders were particularly encouraging. The increase in classes has been unusually large during the conference year. The reports of the district stewards were submitted and or rasioned favorable criticism.

The subject of benevolent collections was taken up and Rev. S. A. Lewis addressed the conference, contending that it was a matter in which each churchman it was a matter in which each churchman should interest himself.

John M. Langston called attention to the condition of ex-Consul Walter and his family. Benevolence, he said, was sery broad, and there was an opportunity if showing that it is broad by aiding this tunity. He said those who desired to contribute can leave their subscriptions at Riggs' Bank.

FOR JUDGE HOLT'S ESTATE

Mysterious Will Filed for Probate and the Legal Fight Is On.

Petition for Letters Testamentary Filed by Luke Devlin Asking to Admit the Paper as Genuine.

The Holt will was submitted for probate his morning. Ever since the scorched and dingy paper made its appearance in the office of the register of wills on August 25, the event that took place to day has been looked forward to almost daily.

There was but one cause for delay—that was the retention of attorneys by the executor under the will, Mr. Luke Devlin.

Almost immediately after the alleged Almost immediately after the alleged will made its unceremonious and mysterious debut before the register, Mr Devlin consulted with Mesors J. J. Darlington and Biair Lee to represent him in the legal fight that was sure to follow.

That they decided to take up the cause and defend the alleged will is shown by their appearance before Judge Bradley to day to present the executor's petition for probate and letters testamentary.

Upon the presentation of the paper for probate, Judge Bradley passed an order making October 18 the date upon which the answer of those opposed to the will is returnable.

answer of those opposed to the will is re-turnable.

If the heirs at law do not file a protest by that date and then show reasonable same why it should not be admitted, the probate of the will will follow as a matter
